

DOMETIC MARINE ANNOUNCES PERSONNEL CHANGES

World-leading supplier of marine air conditioning and sanitation equipment Dometic Marine has announced the promotion of Dennis Chiang to Asia Pacific Marine Divisional Manager.

The appointment follows the relocation of International Technical Sales Manager Ben Haynes to Florida, USA, where he will join the Commercial and Military Marine portion of the North American group.

Singapore-based Chiang, who will assume all of Haynes' responsibilities, has been with Dometic for just over two years as Regional Marine OE & AM Sales Manager for Asia Pacific, and has been working with Dometic products for the past ten years.

"I am looking forward to the challenges of my new role," said Chiang. "Dometic Group CEO Roger Johansson is the one making the decision and I feel blessed to be part of this Marine team.

"It is an exciting time for Dometic Marine in the Asia Pacific region with lots of opportunities for new business. There will be no major changes in the distributor network structure and business will continue as normal in the coming months.

"I wish Ben Haynes all the best in his new role and thank him for all his work in the region."

Air conditioning, toilet, refrigeration and galley specialists Dometic Marine are targeting rapid growth in the Asia Pacific region and recently announced a 14-boat project to supply air conditioning to patrol boats in Mumbai.

Haynes commented: "I am confident Dennis can provide excellent support due to his wealth of experience and his location in Singapore.

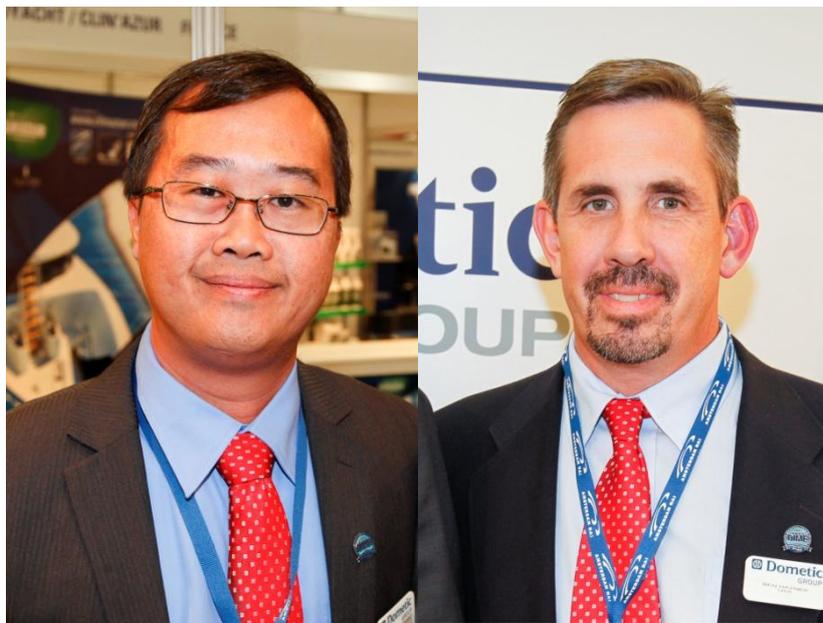

"I am excited to take on this new position with the commercial and military marine sector, as this is a portion of our business that has always interested me.

"I worked with the Asia Pacific group for more than five years and it was the best experience in my 25 years with the company. I met many people, visited many countries and made lots of friends and business associates.

“The experience and what I learned have made me more understanding of the world around me and taught me how to relate and do business in a global fashion. I want to thank all my teachers around the globe for this unbelievable experience.”

The commercial and military markets are key focus areas for Dometic Marine. The company is currently a major supplier of HVAC and toilet systems to the commercial, military and workboat market with its products found on tugboats, ferries, patrol boats, hovercrafts, coast guard boats and more.

Dometic Group recently announced a global reorganization which consolidated the company’s global market focus to three large geographical regions.
